Floating Menu

BookMacster's Floating Menu appears in any web browser when you type your designated global keyboard shortcut, $\text{⌘} \text{⌘} \text{D}$ for example. Quickly find and visit any bookmark, or land a new bookmark directly into any desired folder.

A diagram showing two sets of browser icons with arrows pointing to them, indicating integration. The first set includes Chrome, Firefox, Safari, Opera, iCab, and Roccato. The second set includes Pinboard, Google Bkms, Diigo, Delicious, OmniWeb, and XBEL file. Each browser icon has a small checkmark next to it.

BookMacster has your bookmarks covered.

An advertisement featuring logos for Firefox Sync, Google Sign In, and various devices (desktop monitor, tablet, smartphone, laptop). The central text reads 'Plays nicely with others!'.

A screenshot of the BookMacster keyboard shortcuts menu, divided into 'Bookmarks shelf' and 'Selection' sections.

A screenshot of the BookMacster Inspector window for a bookmark named 'Sheep Systems'. It shows tags like 'alphabetize', 'BookMacster', 'bookmarks', 'cross-browser', 'Safari', and 'sort'. The 'Comments' field contains the text: 'This company creates and supports "BookMacster", the bookmarks master for my Mac.' Below the comments, there are options for 'Sort this folder?' (Use Document Default Settings), 'Duplicate Allowed', 'Shared' (checked), 'Auto-Click', and 'Clients: None (Never imported or exported)'. The 'Visit' section shows 'Visit this bookmark with: Your Default Browser (Safari)', 'Sort: (Normally)', 'Added: 2013 Jun 06 18:23', 'Last Modified: 2013 Jun 29 11:53', 'Last Visited: 2013 Jun 29 11:50', and 'Visit Count: 12'.
